

Everyone can play an important role in the diagnostic process.

Ask yourself

Are there symptoms that don't match the current diagnosis?

Is there a life-threatening condition with similar symptoms that we haven't considered?

What else could this be?

Make the right diagnosis—every time.

