

Engaged patients have better outcomes.

What can you do?

Embrace the internet—patients are going to use Google, so encourage them to check reputable sources.

Encourage patients to take notes and explain what you've said in their own words.

Use simple language and share the most important points first.

Encourage patients to bring a family member to appointments.